

Green Bride: Best of 2010 Eco-Wedding Essentials

March 15 2010

HONEYMOONING

On your wedding night, slip into something slinky—and sustainable, too! Tashi Lingerie, founded by holistic nutrition and Ayurvedic medicine expert Natalie Steiner, carries natural-fabric naughty bits from some of our favorite designers. We particularly love Eberjey's yummy Eco Dream Cami Set, made of 100% organic bamboo jersey and featuring lace-trimmed boy shorts. Hubby won't know what hit him.

And speaking of slipping... Yes certified organic personal lubricant, available exclusively from online organic beauty products emporium Futurenatural, has got you covered on your wedding night (and every night thereafter). Completely free of parabens, glycerin, hormones, silicone and petroleum products, Yes is hypoallergenic, condom-compatible and never tested on animals. A little "yes" got you here, Mrs. Bride. Now a little Yes will help you enjoy newlywed bliss just that much more.
